DECLARATION OF MIKE MAGLIATO

1. My name is Michael Magliato. I am Director of Government Sales for the operating subsidiaries of Cavalier Telephone Corporation ("Cavalier"). My business address is 200 Fairbrook Drive, Suite 202, Herndon, Virginia 20170. I have worked for Cavalier for approximately three years. As Director of Government Sales, I am responsible for overseeing all marketing and sales of telecommunication products to local, State, and Federal government clients. Cavalier offers a wide array of products and serves a wide variety of government clients. I have factual knowledge relating to the information described in this Declaration.

2. Cavalier has over 100 Federal Government customer accounts, which it has acquired through our GSA Schedule, through full and open competitive procurements, and by partnering as a subcontractor for such contracts as FAA FTI (Harris Corp), Dept. of Defense DATS (Arrowhead Communications), Treasury TCS (Northrop Grumman) and such GSA GWACs as Washington Interagency Telecommunications Services (WITS), 8A Stars. The services provided by Cavalier are quite diverse ranging from Analog voice lines with Centrex – like Feature package, T-1 to OC-48 DTS, 100mb Ethernet COOP service, PRI, BRI , DSL and other Internet Access service connectivity options.

3. Cavalier currently serves a large number of government and public clients in the Virginia Beach MSA. Cavalier's customers in the Virginia Beach MSA currently include: The North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO), The Supreme Allied Commander Transformation (SACT, a Division of NATO), The Department of Veterans Affairs- V.A. Hospital- Hampton, the United States Navy , the United States District Court- Newport News, the United States Coast Guard, the City of Virginia Beach, the City of Hampton, the City of Newport News, and the City of Portsmouth to name a few. In addition, Cavalier in Norfolk, Virginia provides a homeland security function by providing rapid deployment groups for the United States Coast Guard, through a VoIP application, which was used in New Orleans response post-Hurricane Katrina.

4. Cavalier serves its government clients, including those in the Virginia Beach MSA, through a combination of unbundled network elements ("UNEs") and its own facilities and equipment. Cavalier has built a $1.2 billion fiber network and relies on local incumbents only for "last mile" facilities. As a result Cavalier has much more control over operating costs, quality of service, and product development and deployment. This allows Cavalier to pass significant savings on to its government customers, many of whom are particularly price sensitive.

5. If the Commission were to grant the forbearance requested by Verizon in WC Docket No. 08-49, Cavalier's costs and prices would almost certainly increase as last-mile facilities would become more expensive, if they even remain available at all. As a result Cavalier's government customers and the general public would suffer.

6. If the Commission were to grant Verizon forbearance, Cavalier would lose the consistent and affordable access to UNE loops it requires to effectively compete for government customers in the Virginia Beach MSA. Because government agencies demand consistent prices and service and are extremely cost sensitive, Cavalier would simply not be able compete for the continued business of many of its current government customers in the Virginia Beach MSA. These customers, as well as the general public who ultimately fund and benefit from these governmental bodies would suffer from this decrease in telecommunication service options.

7. If the Commission were to grant Verizon forbearance, Cavalier's input costs would increase. Cavalier would be forced to pass these increased costs on to its government customers and the general public who ultimately fund these agencies would be directly and immediately harmed.

I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States of America that the foregoing is true and correct.

Executed May 9, 2008.
